About Marv

Marv is Chairman/CEO of Improve Group, Inc., a company that believes there is a better way for businesses to leverage their information, assets and people to reach their full potential. For the past 30 years Marv has developed leaders and helped to craft strategies resulting in exponential business growth. As a small business leader he has led all stages of business from startup to maturity with responsibilities ranging from mopping floors to managing acquisitions.

Marv believes Business as Mission is a better way to do missions. BAM addresses the four aspects of brokenness that plague the world: man’s relationship with God, one another, creation and himself. Through his work in Latin America he has seen firsthand BAM’s impact on communities.

Marv is a member of Mountain Christian Church in Cedar Crest, New Mexico where he has discipled and mentored youth for 30 years. He has led short term teams overseas and helped develop strategy for Mountain Christian’s global missions effort.
