About Sonja

As a long time (over 45 years) resident of Alaska, mother of three and grandmother of five, Sonja is committed to serving Christ and the Law in the small town of Soldotna, although she is licensed to practice in Idaho and Indiana as well.

Sonja received her undergraduate degree in Business Administration from what is now Corban University. She is a graduate of Notre Dame School of Law and started her solo practice in 2007. She practices predominately business and elder law. Sonja serves as chairman of the board for ABC Pregnancy Care Center and is a member of the college council for Kenai Peninsula College. Prior to law school, she spent over 30 years in the business world owning and operating several small businesses.
